which are self explanatory. As far as her account of the matter goes, did return from Londom and go to Arles with Jackson about this time and certainly not before. Cannot vouch for the money having been held in Lyon while he was in London but think it very likely, and if we were responsible in this way for the deposit having been made after the closing date believe you will agree that we have some responsibility in the case. Of course it is true that she should have investigated before depositing etc., however, all things considered believe we should help if we can. (Annie W confirms the fact that we did hold a sum of money for him while he was in London but whether at his instigation our ours she doesnt say, probably ours) According to Ted she now needs this badly to get along. Jackson can probably supply any further details necessary. Please send your comments on this to Ted as he is on the ground.
